of the view that you had plagiarised or something, you cannot get an injunction against (a) thousand people who are talking about this," Justice Amit Bansal said during the hearing of an application filed by Sampath seeking removal of certain tweets posted by historian Audrey Truschke.

On February 18, the court had restrained Truschke, Ananya Chakrabarti and Rohit Chopra from further publication of their letter accusing historian Sampath of plagiarism with respect to his two-volume biography of Vinayak Damodar Savarkar. On February 24, the court directed Twitter to take down Truschke's five tweets. On Friday, Sampath, through his counsel, told the court that Truschke has now posted an open letter of support by "75+ concerned scholars for Drs. Ananya Chakravarti, Rohit Chopra, and Audrey Truschke regarding their service to the profession and academic freedom in calling attention to Dr. Vikram Sampath's plagiarism". He sought removal of five more of Truschke's tweets and also blocking of her account in India. However, Justice Bansal observed that there is nothing defamatory in the letter and that there is also nothing wrong in her posting it.

SC: Protection to former Punjab DGP in future cases 'shocking'

Says will ask CJ to hear Saini's plea himself or assign it to different judge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE NEW DELHI. MARCH 4

THE SUPREME Court has termed as "unprecedented" and "shocking" the Punjab and Haryana High Court order granting protection from arrest to former Punjab DGP Sumedh Singh Saini, who has accused the state government of attempts to falsely implicate him, in cases "pending or likely to be registered" against him till the Punjab Assembly election is over.

"How can future course of action be stayed? It is shocking, and the three of us feel that it is unprecedented. This will require hearing," a three-judge bench headed by Chief Justice of India N V Ramana said on Friday.

The High Court order had been passed by a single-judge bench on September 10, 2021, while hearing a plea by Saini who had requested that investigation in cases registered against him be handed over to "CBI or any other independent agency outside the Punjab". Saini had told the High Court he feared being falsely implicated in criminal cases "on account of malice, mala fides and ulterior motives on part of the political party in power in the Punjab". The Punjab government appealed against the order in SC. The SC bench, also comprising Justices A S Bopanna and Hima Kohli, said it will request the Chief Justice of the Punjab and Haryana High Court to himself hear Saini's plea or assign it to a law PA Mohammed Riyas, who is now emerging as the Muslim different judge than than the one who had passed the order and dispose of the petition within two weeks. "We will keep this matter (appeal) pending," the SC said.

The Assembly election in Punjab was held on February 20.

Votes will be counted March 10. In its September 10 order, the Punjab and Haryana HC had granted Saini protection from arrest after considering it to be "a case of exceptional circumstances and hardship being caused to the petitioner by the State of Punjab

(on political grounds)". "There will be a clear stay for the arrest of the petitioner in al cases pending or likely to be registered or registered or where he is sought to be implicated in the aid of Section 120-B IPC except FIR No.77, where the matter is pending before the Hon'ble Supreme Court, till the General Election in the State of Punjab...," it had said.

On why it passed the order, the single-judge bench said: "[A]fter hearing the learned counsel for the parties, I find merit in the submissions made by learned senior counsel for the petitioner that involvement of the petitioner in multiple cases can be a political ploy in wake of the coming... elections"

The 'FIR 77' is related to the disappearance of a junior engineer, Balwant Singh Multani, in 1991 While the police said Multani had escaped from custody, his family alleged he was abducted from his home by officials operating under the instructions of Saini and tortured while in custody.

The restructuring of the statelevel bodies comes on the heels of the party's decision in the last year's Assembly elections not to field a leader who had been a legislator for two consecutive terms.

In the new 17-member state secretariat, the only leader aged above 75 is Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan. Among the eight new members, the most conspicuous is the presence of Public Works Department Minister and Vijayan's son-in-

In the 88-member state committee, the 16 new faces include DYFI leader AA Rahim and SFI leader V P Sanu. Prominent leader P Sasi, who had once been suspended from the party on charges of sexual misconduct, returned to the state committee.

Rajya Sabha member John

Brittas was made invitee to the state committee, while a few others who were dropped on account of the age limit, were made special invitees. Former minister Achuthanandan, who had retired from active politics due to ill health, was retained as one of the special invitees. The state committee has 13 women, three of them are new entrants. After getting elected as the
